Thad Bosley's Hall of Fame induction just part of jumping O'side sports scene

by Dave Meyer

This is a great time for sports fans. Professional baseball play-offs have begun. Football is in full swing. Basketball is right around the corner.

But wait, that's not all. Oceanside and El Camino High Schools, rich in sports history, have several other sports in mid-season.

Girls' Golf

El Camino may have its best girls' golf team ever. Coach Billy Isles' team, led by juniors Denise Dela Cruz and Allison Johnson, is in the top 10 in the San Diego Section CIF rankings. Dela Cruz is in the top 20 in individual rankings. Senior Kristin Hazelwood, junior Tiffany Green and freshman Katrina Cullens make up a stellar top 5.

Oceanside girls' golf is led by seniors Taylor Lincoln and freshman Bella Nance. Coach Kevin Grump's Pirate team includes seniors Addison Abbruscato, Jazmine Gallegos Romero, Nancy Ramirez and Janea

Welch. Lincoln, who is fighting through a knee injury, has her sights set on qualifying for the individual tournament.

Girls' and Boys' Cross Country

For Oceanside and El Camino girls' and boys' cross country it's good news and bad news. Both teams are experiencing unprecedented turnout, while losing seasoned runners to other sports. Oceanside has 19 freshmen and sophomores competing and El Camino has 15 freshmen.

len's girls' team is led by three freshmen, Anabel Ojeda, Felice Moran and Ashley Luis. The trio led the Pirates to a win in the first Avocado East League Meet.

"We have the largest group I've ever had, yet our boys' team only has 1 returning runner," said coach Guillen. The boys' team is led by returning sophomore Blake Robinson, while Anthony Luis improves with each event.

El Camino, the defending CIF Division I girls' champion, also lost upper-class runners to other sports. Senior Taylor Shelgosh, junior Olivia Jarvis, sophomores Liliana Prieto and Chloe Fowler and freshman Isabel Ortiz lead the way for coach Terra Sarnacki's girls' team.

The Wildcat boys' team won in its first Avocado East League Meet, led by senior Moses Crawford, junior Mario Trasvina, sophomores Alberto Osuna and Miguel Velasquez, and senior Pheleep Sidhom.

Oceanside and El Camino will compete at the second Avocado East League Meet on October 27 at Guajome Park at 3:15 p.m.

Girls' Tennis

El Camino's girls' tennis team is led by junior co-captains Moeka Quindoy and Cianna Young. Coach Maureen Ferrel said "We are a young team that lost 7 seniors off last year's team." El Camino meets Oceanside Tuesday, October 18 at Oceanside at 3:15 p.m.

We will check in on girls' volleyball and boys' water polo as their seasons continue.

Congrats to the "Bos"

A Final Note...Congratulations to Thad Bosley, a Pirate baseball teammate of mine, on his induction into the Oceanside High School Foundation Hall of Fame. The "Bos," who played 14 years in the Major Leagues, will be inducted as one of the Athletics honoree. Congratulations to all. The Induction is free and open to the public. Please say hello if you are there.
